Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal., Nov. 7, 1908

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

Some Congratulations and Sincere Condolences.

Now, that one of the most acrimonious and exciting local political contests ever fought out at the polls in the First Supervisorial District is a thing of the past, congratulations and condolences are in order.

We congratulate the people of this Supervisorial district, as a whole, on the re-election of Mr. Blair Hart for another four-years' term in office. His defeat and the election of his opponent, Mr. Bigelow, would surely have been detrimental to the business interests of Sonoma Valley, which during the former's eight years incumbency has increased in population and wealth as it never had before. No better evidence of this is wanting than the fact that several big real estate deals in this part of the district were suspended pending the result of the Supervisorial contest which culminated so happily at the polls last Tuesday, as prospective investors and conservative business men had no faith in candidate Bigelow's fads and fancies, which were chimerical to say the least. These prospective real estate deals are already coming through, and only the day after Mr. Hart had been declared elected the Halstead place was sold to parties for $16,000 who would have forfeited their option on the property had he been defeated.

We congratulate Mr. Hart on his re-election. It was a sincere endorsement on the part of his fellow citizens, regardless of party affiliations, of an honest, good, true and tried public official, who has served the people of his district with remarkable ability.

We congratulate those Democrats who stood so nobly by their candidate while he was being secretly knifed by others high up in the local councils of his own party.

We congratulate those Republicans, and their names are legion, who came to Mr. Hart's aid and circumvented the treachery of those of his own party who sought to sacrifice him for an untried man of no particular party faith.

We condole with the ladies, "heaven bless them," who lined up as a Spartan band of ballotless Amazonians for their favorite but defeated candidate for Supervisor, and would remind them that the game of politics is not a social function—that the vote of a working-man counts the same as that of the social leader.

We condole with Mr. Bigelow in the sad hour of his defeat, who during his brief and meteoric career in the political firmament no doubt discovered that there are more liars and elusive votes in sight in this world than his philosophy ever dreamed of.

We condole with those who trimmed their sails to catch the popular breeze in this Supervisorial contest and—got left. To these we particularly offer our sincere sympathies for getting on the losing side, and would say to them cheer up. Every political cloud has its silver lining but—don't you never do it again. It is bad form in this game of politics.

With these congratulations and condolences we would say to the adherents of both Mr. Hart and Mr. Bigelow:

Let the warring factions cast off all bitter feelings toward one another and forget their recent differences, to the end that peace and harmony shall once more reign supreme in our midst. Get down to business and forget it. To the victors we would say be magnanimous. To the vanquished, cheer up and be good losers.

I AM a friend of temperance, and I want it to succeed, but I don't think prohibition is practical. The Germans, you see, prevent it. Look at them. They have just invented a method of making brandy out of sawdust. Now, what chance will prohibition have when a man can take a rip saw and go out and get drunk with a fence rail? What is the good of prohibition if a man is able to make brandy out of the shingles on his roof, or if he can get the delirium tremens by drinking the legs off the kitchen table?—Mark Twain.

In a recent issue of his organ down the street, J. K. Bigelow prepares a rat-hole for the "Little Three" to crawl into. As the "Little Three" did their share toward electing him to stay at home in the recent political contest we would suggest to the flamboyant Bigelow that he take to that rat-hole himself and pull the hole in after him. He ought to feel small enough to crawl into it and take his organ-grinder with him.

A TERRIER kept a lady perched on the top of a piano for three mortal hours. The papers say that the dog was mad. Perhaps he was afraid she was going to play.

THE WOMAN who got drunk to give her husband an object lesson, won out. His object is now to secure a divorce as quickly as possible.

Consumption is less deadly than it used to be. Certain relief and usually complete recovery will result from the following treatment: Hope, rest, fresh air, and—Scott's Emulsion.

Taft and the Republican Party Sweep the Country

The election on Tuesday was a National landslide for Judge Taft and the Republican party. California will give the Republican standard-bearer over 75,000 majority. She will send a solid delegation of eight members to Congress, among whom is our own Duncan E. McKinlay, who wins out by 5,000 majority. The Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican, which insures the re-election of U. S. Senator George C. Perkins.

THE VOTERS of the First District voiced their appreciation of the worth and merit of that true and tried Supervisor—Blair Hart—by re-electing him, and "relegating his avaricious opponent to the sweet by-gones."

AN Eastern man, with a 16-foot beard, is dead. November 3d. this year, was unusually severe on men of the long-whiskered variety.

Official Paper of Sonoma.

The Supervisors were in session during the week.

The County Board of Education were in session at Santa Rosa on Saturday.

The people in this section are under the impression that the weather man has run out of rain.

A Sonoma man is said to be so cold blooded that the mosquitoes which work on him wear overboots.

Peter Walter Poulson, aged 22, Sonoma, and Louise Cecile Vincent, 21, El Verano, have been granted a license to wed.

The Tongues of Fire is the name of a new religious sect. They must have a hot time when they call the roll.

Election day passed off in a quiet and orderly manner. Sonoma—very little ostentation being displayed.

Read the ad of the Golden Eagle Milling Company, of Petaluma, which appears in this issue. It will interest you.

Mass was celebrated at St. Francis Church, this city, on Monday last, in commemoration of All Soul's Day.

Now that the election is over, attention will doubtless become concentrated upon the holiday season, which is not far off.

The stork visited the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Searcy, at Martinez, on November 1st, and left a bouncing boy.

The winter months are coming, the saddest of the year, when hot toddlers will be regarded, instead of cool steam beer.

Many took advantage of the Tuesday holiday to enjoy the day in hunting and fishing in the near vicinity of Imperial Sonoma.

Thanksgiving is only a few weeks off, and the succulent turkey is destined, from this time on, to take his position in line with the defeated candidate, en route to the goal of torture.

Hallow'een was devoid of interest—so much so, that the mischief, generally in evidence on that occasion, did not materialize.

It remained for a Kansas paper to outline the unique in the matter of its Birth, Marriage and Death column, which it headed, "Hatched," "Matched," and "Dispatched."

Is your name on the subscription list of the INDEX-TRIBUNE? If not, why not? You should get on—that is, if you wish to keep in touch with the happenings of Sonoma and vicinity.

Miss Catherine Toroni, of Sonoma, and Elvazio Scarpellino, of the Golden State ranch, will be united in marriage, in this city today. The INDEX-TRIBUNE joins with their many friends in wishing them a long happy and uneventful married life.

Considerable money and numerous $5.00 hat bets were lost by the Bigelowites to the Hart adherents as a result of the election on Tuesday, and appearances indicate that the former are destined to furnish head-decorations for the latter for some time to come.

The people of this vicinity should not overlook the fact that the annual ball given under the auspices of the Y. M. I., takes place on Wednesday night (Thanksgiving eve). Good music and a general good time will be the prevailing features of the evening's entertainment.

The Buried Bubble, or the Candidate's Remorse.

The following has been submitted to the INDEX-TRIBUNE, over our own greased wires—the slickest on earth:

"A defeated candidate was lying, in a place not far from here, Where there was a dearth of free lunch, but a lot of good steam beer; His comrades stood beside him, as he was want to plume and sway, To catch in pitying glances, the words he wished to say. Tell the boys all to 'line-up,' and take a drink or a cigar, For which I'll gladly settle, should I soak my touring-car; Tell them that I fought the battle bravely, and when the day was done— There was many a vote I didn't get—if I did, I'm a son-of-a-gun; Tell them that I'm going into retirement, for a couple of years, or more, And that I will head my auto for Salt River's shining shore."

HALSTEAD PLACE DEAL CLOSED

Sixteen Thousand Dollars Paid Over Counters of Sonoma Valley Bank Last Wednesday.

The Halstead place deal was closed Wednesday by Mrs. Emma Fetters, who paid over the counters of the Sonoma Valley Bank $16,000 in gold for the property. Immediately after the payment of the money and the passing of the deed of ownership, Mrs. Fetters, accompanied by her attorney, H. P. Mathewson, left for Santa Rosa in an automobile, to have the deed recorded.

This sale has been hanging fire for the past two months, awaiting the result of the Supervisorial contest between Blair Hart and J. K. Bigelow. Had the latter been elected, this real estate deal, with several others on the tapis in this valley, would have fallen through. However, fortunately for real estate values here, Mr. Hart won out, and when Mrs. Fetters was notified by wire the result of the election, she immediately left San Francisco in an automobile, and arriving in town Wednesday forenoon, closed the deal at once.

The new owner of the property will immediately commence the erection of a forty-room hotel, bath houses, bathing tank, etc., on the premises, and will expend $20,000 in the improvements. It is the intention of Mrs. Fetters to make an ideal summer resort and bathing establishment of the Halstead place, upon which was recently developed one of the finest hot water artesian wells in this section of the State.

Saturday's Social Dance

The Hallow'een Social dance given by the ladies of Verdant Rebekah Degree Lodge in Union Hall last Saturday evening was a success socially, financially and otherwise. There was a large gathering of the younger set and a fair sprinkling of their elders present to participate in the festivities of the occasion, and to "linger awhile in the mazy waltz"—many coming from a distance—and to say that all thoroughly enjoyed themselves, would be putting it mildly indeed. Dancing commenced at the usual hour, and was continued without intermission until nearly midnight when adieus were in order and all repaired to their respective homes, well pleased with the evening so pleasantly spent among friends, and hoping that occurrences of a like nature would be more numerous in the future than they have been in the past; but the sweet remembrance of this one will not be effaced—probably not until the occurrence of the next—which all anticipate will take place in the not distant future.

Will Lose His Certificate.

On Saturday last the County Board of Education formulated charges against Professor Stanley Richardson, charging unprofessional conduct in opening packages of examination papers before the day set and of having coached pupils illegally, and after a formal hearing upon the charges the board will cancel Richardson's certificate as a teacher, as he has practically admitted the charges without trial.

Bosworth-Aldrich.

Richard S. Bosworth, formerly of this place, and Miss Bernice B. Aldrich were married at the home of the bride's mother in Oakland last Wednesday. The young couple who are well known in this valley, have long been engaged. After an extended honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth will go to house-keeping in Oakland.

Catholic Church Services.

Services will be held in St. Francis Church to-morrow at 10:30 a.m. and in St. Mary's Church, Glen Ellen, at 8:45 a. m.

NOVEMBER MEETING CITY TRUSTEES

The Session Was Devoid of Interest—Bills Allowed and Other Matters.

The City Trustees met in November session last Wednesday evening, a full Board being present and Mayor Breitenbach in the chair.

The minutes of the previous meeting held last month having been read and approved, the Board took up the bills and passed the following:

A. W. Addler, benches and repairs. $30.50
H. Castagnuolo, sprinkling & hauling. 40.30
C. Sheer, services. 1.50
R. Quararoli, labor. 29.00
J. H. Albertson, salary. 15.00
S. V. Co., electric lights. 36.40
Mrs. L. V. Emperan, water. 15.00
H. H. Granice, printing. 17.04

A communication was received from Wm. Rambo in reference to cows being permitted to roam on our streets and in the Plaza. The communication was placed on file.

Fred Leidecker was granted a retail liquor license to do business in the building owned by Messrs. Robin & Kiser on Napa street.

The contract with the Sonoma Valley Company for electric street lighting was renewed for another month.

The electric light company was instructed to install two electric lights on Spain street, between Second-street East and Fourth-street East.

The street committee was authorized to purchase four carloads of crushed rock, to be used on our streets.

The same committee was also instructed to have a stone culvert placed on Napa street, near First-street East.

On motion of Trustee McDonnell, which received a second from Trustee Quararoli, City Clerk Small was instructed to advertise for bids in the Sonoma INDEX-TRIBUNE for a new stone bridge across Nathanson's creek, opposite the Bulotti residence on Napa street.

The Board then adjourned.

A Tin Roof.

On election night, two gentlemen entered the barroom of the Swiss Hotel, and proceeded to the bar.

"What will be your pleasure, gentlemen," inquired the polite attendant.

"A tin roof," replied the two.

After going over a number of receptacles, the attendant finally gave up in despair.

"I will make it," said one of the pair, and taking the brandy, gin and whiskey bottles, he poured out a liberal drink for each from the former.

"Why do you call that a tin roof," asked the attendant.

"Because it's on the house," exclaimed the two in unison, as they emerged through the open door.

Intention to Strike Out.

Notice has been filed by Fred and R. A. Clark, representing Phoebe Hart et al., of intention to move to strike out a portion of the answer in the suit of Henry J. Onauvet vs. John Lombos et al.

BLAIR HART IS RE-ELECTED

Defeats J. K. Bigelow in Every Precinct in the Sonoma Valley by a Majority of 141.

One of the most exciting local political contests ever fought out at the polls in this Supervisorial District was that between Blair Hart and J. K. Bigelow at last Tuesday's election, and resulted in the utter rout of the Bigelow adherents in every voting precinct in Sonoma, Glen Ellen and Vallejo Townships, if we except Cotati, which gave Bigelow a majority of 12 votes only.

The line up between the two opposing factions was clearly defined, and admitted of no intermediate course. The war of ballots was waged from the opening to the closing of the polls in all the seven precincts, and the contest between the Hart and Bigelow factions gave way to everything else.

The result by majorities was as follows:

HART MAJORITIES.
Penngrove	64
Glen Ellen	34
Lakeville	33
Agua Caliente	11
San Luis	6
Sonoma	5
Total	153

Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless safeguard against the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

This world-famous specific for woman's peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its frequent use. ### Country Boys Wanted for Business Positions.

Business men of Oakland and San Francisco, and other large cities, want young men reared in the country to prepare for commercial positions. Experience has shown that the average boy from the farm has habits of industry and integrity that make for success.

The Polytechnic Business College of Oakland, Cal., has made a phenomenal record in training and placing young men and women in business positions, and the College is so located as to provide homelike accommodations at very low rates.

It is said that every young man who has taken the complete course in business training at this College has received remunerative employment upon graduation.

An illustrated Catalogue will be sent free to any one who will write to Prof. W. E. Gibson, 306 Twelfth street, Oakland, Cal.

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! This was because Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair medicine. Falling hair is caused by a germ, and this medicine completely destroys these germs. Then the healthy scalp gives rich, healthy hair.

YOU MAY NOT NEED IT NOW

Put it in Some Safe Place, for It May Come in Handy Some Day.

Here is a simple home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night; painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe. Try it:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy.

Some men are born great and some have to be elected. The principal trouble about "fame" is, it keeps a man's creditors on his trail. To do right brings good—to do wrong brings misery. You'll find out that when your sins find you out they always hang

KNOWN BY NICKNAMES.

Places Where a Genuine Surname Is Never Even Heard.

In many places in Great Britain, and especially in some of the fishing villages of Cornwall and of certain parts of Scotland, such a thing as a genuine surname is never even heard. Every man in the place is known by a nickname.

In most of these villages this has been brought about originally by the fact that all the inhabitants have only had very few surnames among them. One or two prevailing families have represented the population and have married and intermarried till trying to distinguish a man by his surname has only created confusion. And even some of the nicknames have begun to not in the same way. At a village not very far from Wick the writer knows of some fishermen who had originally been nicknamed "Dumpy" and had left so many descendants that other specific nicknames had been necessary to distinguish which of the "Dumps" was meant on given occasions.

At another village not far from this one several nicknames have in the same way become the only known family names. The writer was once in the general shop here when a small boy came in and asked for some article, stating that it was for Blower. "Blower?" said the shopkeeper. "Which Blower? There are scores of Blowers?"

The child answered at once: "It's for Bowleggit! Blower, 'Ted Lugged' (eared) Blower's liddle."—London Answers.

THE COCA PLANT.

Its Leaves Used as an Injurious in South America.

Coca is the South American invigorant. The shrub from which the coca leaves are obtained grows under favorable conditions to a height of about four meters. It is cultivated in Peru and Bolivia.

At the time the crop is gathered the seeds are sown in beds, when they germinate and grow, and in two months the growing plants reach a height of about a foot. The leaves, grown in the proper sunlight and shade, are yellowish, small and thick. This is the kind of leaf that is preferred for chewing by persons using the leaf as a stimulant, fortifier and preventive of sleep and fatigue in the performance of arduous work, from which miners suffer when working in mines that contain much water. Indians who masticate the leaves of this plant can work twenty-four hours without eating or sleeping.

Coca leaves are used by the natives when engaged in long and fatiguing journeys and by soldiers when subject to hardships and privations. They may be used with all kinds of food and are said to cure dyspepsia, either taken as an infusion in the shape of tea or by masticating the leaves. The life of the plant when perfect is eighty years.—Chicago Tribune.

Man and the Motor.

"Yep," said Uncle Rooster as he soberly traced in the glass the increasing whiteness of his hair and beard and the remarkable deepening and spreading of his innumerable facial wrinkles—"yep, man is like the motor car, by guinea."

"How so?" inquired the city nephew. "Because," said Uncle Rooster, "by the time he's got in good working order in all his bearings and paid for himself to the last installment he's learnt to do his daily run with ease and certainty and never a breakdown, why, he's antiquated by that time, the noo models is out, and there's nothin' fur him but the shelf."—New York Press.

Lighting the Nest.

There dwells in upper Burma a bird with the high sounding name of New-couris baza, but which is really a sort of blackbird. It is conspicuously clever, at least in one curious particular, for it actually lights up its nest artificially. To do this it works up a lot of clay into balls and sticks these balls all over with living fireflies in such a way that, although the fireflies are held captive, they shine all the same. The New-couris baza then decorates its nest with half a dozen or so of these balls by hanging them round. The balls last for only a few days and are then replaced by others, and so on all through the nesting season.

Obedient English Husbands.

Despite all the admonitions to perfect obedience which have for decades been carefully instilled into the feminine mind, it is an undoubted fact that this is an age not of obedient wives, but of obedient husbands. Some obey through love, some through fear and others through a desire for peace, but all are alike, inasmuch that they are docile to a degree undreamed of in the middle ages or even in the Victorian era of Dunderre whisks and baggy trousers.—London Gentlewoman.

Few Words.

He had gone to ask her father for her hand in marriage. "Well, sir, what is it?" snapped out the old man. "Remember, I am a man of few words." "I don't care if you are a man of only one word, if it's the right one," replied the suitor. "Well?" "An' here he brings an ice pick!"—Cleveland Leader.

Right in a Sense.

"That water's an idiot!" "What's the matter now?" "I asked him to bring me a water cracker."

Who Whips?

The clergyman's little son was telling the small son of a parishioner of the dreadful fights which he and his sister indulged in.

"You don't mean to say that ministers' children fight?" replied the horrified little layman.

"Oh, yes."

"Who whips?"

"Mamma."—Exchange.

A Sure Test.

The schoolmaster put to his class the question: "Two jars of gas, one containing nitrogen and one carbon dioxide, are given. How may the gases be discriminated?"

One eager little pupil said: "Get a very far from Wick the writer knows of some fishermen who had originally been nicknamed 'Dumpy' and had left so many descendants that other specific nicknames had been necessary to distinguish which of the 'Dumps' was meant on given occasions."

His Status.

"Is that ex-New Yorker who likes London so well a naturalized Englishman?"

"No," answered Miss Cayenne, "merely a denatured American."

His Only Chance.

Mother (crossly)—Tommy, haven't I told you you must not talk when I am talking? Tommy—But, mamma, you won't let me stay up after you go to bed!—Sketch.

He Gave Her a Present.

When I was a young man Lady Jersey was one of the leaders of fashion, and her house was the resort of politicians and others. With her lived her daughter, Lady Clementine Villiers, a handsome and clever girl. The custom had been established that all friends should give the latter a present on her birthday, and these presents were set out in an antechamber. Among these friends was Lord Brougham, then an old man. He called on a birthday, but had forgotten what the occasion was, and had brought no present. Seeing a mass of presents laid out, he seized one of them and took it in as his present, rightly concluding that the young lady would not remember that it was one that already had been given to her. And very proud he was of his presence of mind. But, then, he was an ex-lord chancellor.—London Truth.

Many Languages of Mexico.

During the festa of Christmas or the week of All Souls and All Saints, when the Indians swarm down from the mountains with their holiday wares for sale, visitors in the City of Mexico may notice the strange language that the vendors use in addressing each other. Even when they turn to serve the purchaser their Spanish is neither Castilian nor Mexican, but is frequently broken by peculiar syllables and accents. This is merely an illustration of the fact that the Indian languages of old Mexico have not been entirely submerged by the conquering Spanish, and in some of the most remote districts of the republic various and distinct languages handed down from the pre-Columbian era are still spoken in their pristine purity by many tribe members.—Mexican Herald.

Easy House Moving.

House moving is an easy task among the Lakas, a tribe living near the Lagoon river, in the French Congo, Africa. This tribe, which is one of the most superb examples of the savage black race, lives in conical shaped huts constructed of plaited of tough straw. When a change in location is desired, both the women and the men put their shoulders to the task and carry the roofs of their homes to the new site, sometimes many miles distant. The circular walls of the huts are rebuilt.
